UTCA has scheduled a Saturday seminar on January 29, 2011 at FallProof Networks in Trenton New Jersey. The seminar will be at the organization's new indoor training facilities. This session is for field personnel regarding OSHA's Fall Protection Regulations and will educate staff concerning all fall arrest systems common fall hazards, guardrail systems, scaffolding and related OSHA standards.

In response to a dramatic increase in fall related construction deaths, OSHA has placed a Local Emphasis Program (LEP) on fall protection. This means that OSHA Compliance Officers are required to stop at all construction sites where they observe a possible fall hazard. Non-Compliance will result in large financial penalties for employers who do not properly implement these regulations. Make sure your employees are well trained in fall protection by attending this seminar.

This seminar offers an awareness of the issues involved with fall protection. A focus on the theory of fall protection and the need to protect workers at height highlights this informative seminar. Participants are introduced to the regulations governing fall protection as well as the components of a fall protection system including body holding devices, anchorages, connectors and rescue.

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will receive a certificate acknowledging they have met or exceeded OSHA, ANSI and CSA requirements as an Authorized Person.
